New York 20, New York

Dear Nelson:

This is a follow-up to my letter of February 12th in reply to yours of the 7th.

STAT We have now had an opportunity to study your proposals thoroughly and find them rather interesting. If agreeable with you I should like to have one of our senior officials, [redacted] get together with you for a talk on the subject.

STAT If you will let me know a time and place convenient for you to see [redacted] I will arrange to have him there.

With best wishes.

Faithfully,

Allen W. Dulles
Director

Dear Nelson:

I just want to keep you current on the case of Mrs.
[redacted]

STAT

Harry Reynolds, our Director of Personnel, talked to her as you know, and had her complete our application forms in order that we would have all the detailed information necessary to conduct a thorough review. Although much interest was expressed in her qualifications, we find, unfortunately, that we do not have a spot which could make full use of her talents.

I am grateful to you for bringing [redacted] to our attention and am exceedingly sorry that our efforts in her behalf have been fruitless.

STAT

With kind personal regards,

Faithfully,

Allen W. Dulles
Director

The various components of the Agency which might best use a person with your special skills have reviewed your application with keen interest. Unfortunately, however, we find that we do not have any slots at this time which we feel could make full use of your qualifications.

We appreciate your desire to associate with Central Intelligence and regret that we cannot take any positive action at this time to bring you aboard. You may be sure that I shall get in touch with you if an opening should develop which we feel would be of interest to you.

Very truly yours,

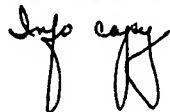

Harrison G. Reynolds
Director of Personnel

Dear Nelson:

I received your letter of December 21st upon my return from a very pleasant holiday in Nassau.

To say that I appreciate your kind remarks is an understatement - overwhelmed would be a little more accurate. In any event, I do thank you and I want you to know that the mere fact that you will be in New York will not mean any change in our habits of looking to you for advice and inspiration.

With very best wishes.

Faithfully,

Allen W. Dulles

Dear Allen:

STAT Thank you so much for your note of the fourth about [redacted]. I greatly appreciate your following up on this.

It certainly was nice to see you in New York on Sunday. The President-elect seems to have made an excellent impression, and certainly the trip was not without its good effects on him.

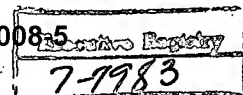

With very best wishes,

Sincerely,

Nelson A. Rockefeller
